

Beyond120 Summer/Fall 2022 Professional Development Coursework

<https://www.advising.ufl.edu/beyond120/coursework/>

SLS1409 - Professional Pathways in the Liberal Arts and Sciences (1 credit)

An introduction to career development, professionalism, and transferable skills. Students will develop resumes, cover letters, LinkedIn profiles, learn powerful interviewing techniques, and identify connections between these skills, themselves, and industries of interest.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Mondays & Wednesdays, Period 3 (11:00-12:15)	In-Person	Summer B 2022
Tuesdays & Thursdays, Period 2 (9:30-10:45)	In-Person	Summer B 2022
Tuesdays, Period 6 (12:50-1:40)	In-Person	Fall 2022
Wednesdays, Period 5 (11:45-12:35)	In-Person	Fall 2022
Thursdays, Period 4 (10:40-11:30)	In-Person	Fall 2022
100% Online	Asynchronous Online	Fall 2022

IHS1100 - Introduction to the Pre-Health Process (1 credit)

An introduction to current topics in healthcare and guidance on how students can prepare to be a healthcare professional and apply to health graduate programs. The use of the word “medicine” in this course is all-encompassing to include all healthcare professions.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Tuesdays, Periods 5 & 6 (2:00-4:45)	In-Person	Summer B 2022
Wednesdays, Periods 5 & 6 (2:00-4:45)	In-Person	Summer B 2022
Tuesdays, Period 8 (3:00-3:50)	In-Person	Fall 2022
Wednesdays, Period 8 (3:00-3:50)	Synchronous Zoom	Fall 2022
Thursdays, Period 8 (3:00-3:50)	In-Person	Fall 2022

SLS1006 - Global Pathways: Preparing for International Engagement (1 credit)

A preparation for overseas experiences, providing intercultural perspectives and practical skills necessary to craft a strategic action plan for global engagement. Integrates world experience, civic engagement, and professional development.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Tuesdays, Period 4 (10:40-11:30)	In-Person	Fall 2022
100% Online	Asynchronous Online	Fall 2022

IDS1054 - Introduction to Research in the Liberal Arts and Sciences (1 credit)

An introduction to research opportunities, skills, and practices. Students will develop research plans and project proposals, learn the expectations of professional conduct in a research setting, and engage with the wider research community through laboratory and archive tours, guest speakers, and Q&A sessions.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
100% Online	Asynchronous Online	Summer B 2022
Mondays, Period 5 (11:45-12:35)	In-Person	Fall 2022
100% Online	Asynchronous Online	Fall 2022

IDS4930 - Pre-Health Pathways (2 credits)

A course enhancing personal and professional development for healthcare professions and its relevance in application preparation. Appropriate for juniors and seniors. Pre-req: IHS1100.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Tuesdays, Period 7-8 (1:55-3:50)	In-Person	Fall 2022

SLS3342 - Strategic Self-Marketing in the Liberal Arts and Sciences (1 credit)

An exploration of professionalism, leadership, and how to positively influence and motivate others. Students will learn principles of brand identity, management strategies, and situational and cultural awareness in the workplace.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Thursdays, Period 6 (12:50-1:40)	In-Person	Fall 2022

SLS3226 - The Art of “Adulthood” in the Liberal Arts and Sciences (1 credit)

An investigation of coming of age as a young professional in today’s society. Students will engage with mythology, media, and historical perspectives to examine time management, personal finance, career development, civic engagement, and other crucial elements of contemporary adult life.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Tuesdays, Period 7 (1:55-2:45)	In-Person	Fall 2022

IHS3935 - Human Dimensions in Healthcare (3 credits)

Seminar for students pursuing a profession in healthcare. Via multimedia, stories, speakers, reading, and discussion, students holistically explore and analyze health-related topics in humanities and social sciences. Upon completion, students will have greater insight, sensitivity, and understanding of human dimensions and worldviews related to health.

Day/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Mondays, Periods 7/8 (1:55-3:50) & Wednesdays, Period 8 (3:00-3:50).	In-person	Fall 2022

IDS4930 - Grad School 101 (1 credit)

This course will help you gain a better understanding of graduate programs, plan ahead, and determine whether graduate school is the right path for you. Course will cover the application process, different types of graduate programs, day-to-day life of graduate students, and how to effectively prepare to apply to graduate school.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Mondays, Period 6 (12:50-1:40)	In-Person	Fall 2022

IDS4930 - Industry Insights: Women in STEM (1 credit)

Co-Taught with UF alumna Dr. Pascale Attalah, this course will cover pressing issues for women in STEM fields.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Tuesdays, Period 6 (12:50-1:40)	Synchronous Zoom	Fall 2022

IDS4930 - Industry Insights: Careers in the FBI (1 credit)

Co-Taught with FBI Agent and UF alumnus Carlos Colon, this course will introduce students to careers in the FBI.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Thursdays, Period 11 (6:15-7:05)	Synchronous Zoom	Fall 2022

IDS4930 - Presenting Data Professionally (1 credit)

Taught by Associate Dean Dr. Brian Harfe, this course is an introduction to clearly and effectively presenting data. You will learn techniques to ensure audience comprehension, how to correct common data presentation mistakes, and ultimately how to present data professionally through any medium.

Date/Time:	Delivery	Semester
Wednesdays, Period 4 (10:40-11:30)	In-Person	Fall 2022