Office Hours: Tuesdays, 8:00-9:00 am in 2014 Farrior Hall

Study abroad. International internships. Research overseas. Global service learning. International experiences change lives. They give students the skills, knowledge, and confidence necessary to navigate the increasingly complex challenges of a globalized world. They also translate into better grades, higher graduation rates, and stronger job prospects.

Part of the Beyond120 Professional Development Curriculum, this one-credit course is designed to prepare you to take advantage of – or even create – opportunities for global engagement. Additionally, this course fulfills one of the curriculum requirements of the International Scholars Program. Learn more about how you can obtain a graduation medallion and diploma at https://internationalcenter.ufl.edu/global-learning/international-scholars-program.

Student Learning Outcomes
To encourage the personal, academic, and professional development of globally minded students, this course will ask students to:

▪ Understand the benefits global engagement brings to academic attainment and personal development.
▪ Identify the connections between global engagement on future employment and professional development opportunities.
▪ Select a network of potential global contacts and mentors.
▪ Examine the impact and implications of international engagement and global service on others.
▪ Reflect on their own personal ethic for global learning.
▪ Discuss skills and concepts related to intercultural learning and intercultural communication.
▪ Create an action plan for globalizing their course of study that integrates world experience, civic engagement, and professional development.

Required Materials
▪ Readings can be accessed online, either through links or PDFs posted on Canvas.
▪ Please bring a smart phone or laptop to class.

What You Need To Do
- Participation and Attendance. Classes are more productive when students participate. Merely showing up will not be enough to earn a passing grade in discussion. Come to class ready to discuss the readings and videos. I encourage you to ask questions, answer questions, offer observations, and engage with the comments of your classmates.

  A note on absences: Attendance is the responsibility of the student. If you’re not in class, you’re not participating. Everyone will be granted one “no questions asked” absence during the semester. Use it wisely. After that, each missed class will decrease your participation grade by 2 points. Absences due to medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances are considered excused with proper documentation. If multiple absences become necessary, please speak to me.
- Planning Exercises. There are five planning exercises meant to help you research and prepare for global engagement. Details in Canvas.
- Event Attendance and Reflection. Over the course of the semester, you will attend and reflect on two events on campus or in the community that focus on another culture (at least one) and/or relate in some manner to global engagement. I will regularly publicize opportunities, but the events you attend will be of your own choosing. You will need to turn in a reflection on the events to earn points for this assignment. Details in Canvas.
- Final Project- Global Engagement Presentation. You will create a PowerPoint presentation summarizing and reflecting on what you’ve learned over the semester to share with the class. Details in Canvas.

TENTATIVE WEEKLY SCHEDULE
Please note that the readings are subject to change. I will let you know if there are adjustments to the schedule. Links to the readings and videos are available in Canvas.

POLICIES

Late Work: All work must be submitted by the published due date, however, you will have one “freebie” in case life happens. This means you will be able to submit one individual assignment up to one week late with no questions asked. Otherwise, assignments submitted up to one week late will receive a maximum of half credit. I suggest not using your “freebie” unless you truly have an extenuating circumstance. No work will be accepted after the last day of classes (December 7) and no late work will be accepted more than one week after the due date.

Attendance: Attendance in class is required to actively participate and have meaningful discussions. Everyone will be granted one “no questions asked” absence during the semester. Use it wisely. After that, each missed class will decrease your participation grade by 2 points. Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies. Click here to read the university attendance policies.

Students with Disabilities: Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Evaluations: Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via https://ufl.bluerca.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/.

Honor Code: UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

COVID
In response to COVID-19, the following recommendations are in place to maintain your learning environment, to enhance the safety of our in-classroom interactions, and to further the health and safety of ourselves, our neighbors, and our loved ones.

- If you are not vaccinated, get vaccinated. Vaccines are readily available and have been demonstrated to be safe and effective against the COVID-19 virus. Visit one.uf for screening/testing and vaccination opportunities.
- If you are sick, stay home. Please call your primary care provider if you are ill and need immediate care or the UF Student Health Care Center at 352-392-1161 to be evaluated.
- Course materials will be provided to you with an excused absence, and you will be given a reasonable amount of time to make up work.

Statement on Class Discussion
People learn best when they are encouraged to ask questions and express their diverse opinions on course content, which may include images, texts, data, and theories from across the disciplines. This is especially true in courses that deal with provocative or contemporary issues. UF offers many such courses, in which students encounter concepts of race, color, sex, and/or national origin. We teach these important issues because understanding them is essential for anyone who seeks to make economic, cultural, and societal contributions to today’s complex world. With this in mind, we do not limit access to, or classroom discussion of, facts, ideas, and opinions—including those that some may find uncomfortable, unwelcome, disagreeable, or even offensive. In response to challenging material, students and instructors are encouraged to ask honest questions and thoughtfully engage one another’s ideas. But hostility, disruptive and disrespectful behavior, and provocation for provocation’s sake have no place in a classroom; reasonable people disagree reasonably. These guidelines can help instructors and students as they work together to fulfill the mission of the University of Florida, which includes the exploration of intellectual boundaries, the creation of new knowledge, and the pursuit of new ideas.
